Developing the Board for the New World, Post-COVID19

Learn Where You Are!

We are wisely re-thinking what board development needs to look like in future. The new world of complex and uncertain challenges surely demands this. Evidence from both our research and delivery work suggests that board development has most impact as a planned programme, not just a series of one-off events. Maddison Pine now offers a blend of online training and in-country programmes in addition to our international programmes. Social distancing and full safety measures will be observed. Development work such as for Governance Frameworks, Board Protocols, Board Annual Plans and Best Practices are available upon request.

Board Smart™ Digital Board Evaluation

Global Governance Good Practice recommends that all Boards must conduct an annual board evaluation. “No matter how good a board is, it's bound to get better if reviewed intelligently.” Our board evaluation services are designed to help Chairs and/or CEOs appraise their board and reassure stakeholders of its efficacy; identify current board strengths and possible areas for development.

Applying simple standards and principles of governance can radically improve the effectiveness and performance of boards. Successful Boards improve their organisation's performance.

Board Smart™ Board Portal for Meetings & Decision-Making

Boards depend on high quality information to make strategic decisions and to steer the organisation. Transform your board into a strategic learning board by adopting our Board Smart product that uniquely combines your electronically enabled board pack and annual work plan.
